

AIMM 2025

Artificial Intelligence (AI) in Medicine

18th August, 2025 | Lisbon, Portugal

www.ai-medicalcongress.com

PROGRAM

Program

09:00 AM - 10:00 AM Registration & Networking Breakfast

Keynotes

10:00AM-10:45AM From Digital Health to AI-Driven Healthcare: A 25-Year Journey and Vision for 2050

Sasan (Sam) Adibi, Founder & CEO, Research Vitality, Australia

10:45AM-11:30AM Artificial Intelligence in Dementia Care: Revolutionizing Diagnosis, Drug Discovery, and Personalized Medicine

Helena Bahrami, Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand

Oral

11:30AM-12:00PM Negotiating Human-AI Complementarity in End-of-Life Care: A Grounded Theory Study of Nurses' Perspectives in Northeast China

Chenyang Guo, Research Fellow, Xi'an Jiaotong-Liverpool University, China

Keynote

12:00PM-12:45PM Implementation of the AI Act & global perspective of AI regulation in Healthcare

Miguel Amador, Chief Innovation Officer, Compear, Portugal

Oral

12:45PM-01:15PM Artificial Intelligence in Assisted Dying Capacity Assessments for Minors: Ethical, Legal, and Practical Considerations.

Karen Sutton, Head of Faculty, Griffith College, Ireland

NOTE: All timings are specified in Central European Time (CET)

01:15PM - 01:30PM AI in heart failure, See it, before it happens

Richard Dasselaar, Chair: International Society for Telemedicine & eHealth, Switzerland

Keynotes

02:30PM - 03:15PM Artificial Intelligence in Medicine: Revolutionizing Healthcare (with focus on Medical Imaging and Nuclear Medicine)

Avanka W. Lowe, Nuclear Medicine Physician, University of Arizona, USA

03:15PM - 04:00PM Predicting the Likelihood of Successful Imaging AI
Adoption and Real-World Impact with Best Practice
Pre-Deployment AI Clinical Evaluation

Jason Poff, Director of Innovation Deployment, Radiology Partners, USA

Oral

04:00PM - 04:45PM Establishing a high-impact opportunistic breast arterial calcification screening program with AI software and it's potential long-term benefits in detecting early signs of cardiovascular disease

Arthy Saravanan, Associate Chief Medical Officer of Recruitment, Radiology Partners, USA

Thanks giving & Conference Closure